

PASS

SNEAK PEAK!

M. JAY GRANBERRY

1ST QUARTER

The moon chases the stars. The stars chase the Earth. The Earth is in her own world. That's why the moon goes missing. That's why the stars keep dying. And the Earth has no idea they're all falling.

/ˈfas(t)ˌbræk/

verb

An offensive tactic to outrun defenders. Giving the opposition a little more time to set up the attack. It toppled my world.

Chapter

Katrina

I blink my eyes open, squinting into a world that's too bright, my consciousness shrouded in a lingering fog, ears buzzing with a nondescript drone. My bleary gaze locks onto a pair of eyes, hazel and normally comforting. Ryan's eyes. Today, they're not the warm, inviting pools I'm used to diving into. Today, they're a stormy sea, churning with hidden depths.
